

At Serenity Legal Services, you'll never have to ask, "who is my lawyer?"

The Bankruptcy world is sometimes a funny place. One particularly peculiar practice in Southern California is that MANY attorneys do not accompany their clients to court. Instead, they send so-called "appearance attorneys" who meet their clients for the first time at court, have only scant knowledge of the case file, and can only answer questions by saying, "I don't know; I'll contact the firm." This results in bankruptcy filers being unnecessarily worried on the day of their court appearance -- will they find the attorney? -- and somewhat frequently being required to come back to court for a second appearance.

At Serenity Legal Services, we don't use appearance attorneys. From the day you come in for your free initial consultation until your case is completed, you work with one (or more) of our staff counsel. Your case is prepared by our attorney (usually with you present), you're given exact instructions of where to go and what to bring when the court day approaches, and, on the big day, an attorney from our firm personally accompanies you at court and sits through your examination with you.

Bankruptcy is already stressful enough. At Serenity Legal Services, we personally guide you through the process from start to finish -- you hired US, so you get US!